No Action Is Planned on Fund Scandal

By BILL HURSCHMANN

A lengthy investigation by the United States Department of Justice has conclusively established that the Jefferson Elementary School District received more than $774,000 in federal funds as a result of false information supplied by district administrators.

United States Attorney James L. Browning Jr., said there is substantial evidence that the false applicationn was submitted at the "instance of Keith Breon (former district superintendent) and William Fowler (former assistant superintendent) and with their knowledge of its falsity."

Both Breon and Fowler have resigned their posts. Both have denied their guilt in the matter.

In early 1975, Browning said, his office was advised by certain school board officials in San Mateo County that Breon may have been responsibile for JESD's having submitted a false application to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) for Emergency School Aid Act (ESAA) funds for 1974-75.

The false application, Browning said, was submitted to the director of HEW's Region 9, Office of Civil Rights (OCR), after the district's initial application for ESAA funds had been rejected.

The OCR director, Browning said, reasoned that JESD's original request was turned down because of the application's failure to prescribe how a 2 per cent desegregation in one school was to be accomplished. The second application, Browning said, "had shown how and that JESD'S efforts to desegregate here had been bona fide." The revised plan, however, was never presented to the Board of Trustees, nor was it ever implemented.

According to Browning, his office's investigation has established:

- "An application containing false information was submitted and over $700,000 in federal funds was granted to JESD on the basis of it;
- "The falsity consisted of severely misrepresenting the degree of desegregation taking place in JESD;
- "The false application was submitted without the knowledge of the board for approval by them of any of the false representations made there. Indeed, the board had approved a different plan;
- "There is substantial evidence that the false application was submitted at the instance of Keith Breon and William Fowler and with their knowledge of its falsity.

Terror On 280 —3 Die

A car traveling the wrong direction at speeds estimated at 100 miles per hour smashed head-on into another car on Interstate 280 Sunday, killing three persons.

Two other persons were seriously injured in the 2:45 p.m. crash near Black Mountain Road in Hillsborough.

California Highway Patrol officers said a car driven by Wesley E. Feria, 26, of 125 Del Monte Ave., Pacifica, turned onto the freeway near Edgewood Road west of Redwood City and headed north in the southbound lanes of the divided freeway.

Refuse Transfer Station

Narrow Approval Of Mussel Rock

By NANCY STANCILL

DALY CITY'S proposal to construct a solid waste transfer station at Mussel Rock dump site was approved by a hairline vote just before midnight Monday by the Central Coast Zone Regional Commission.

The 8-4 positive vote came after Daly City and Pacifica officials had waited more than eight hours for the transfer station matter to come up at an all-day commission meeting in Santa Cruz.

Eight positive votes are necessary before the commission will approve an application. Daly City officials indicated they feared that commissioners who favored the proposal would grow weary and leave before the Daly City item, 42nd on the agenda, came up for action.

A call from Daly City's Mayor Albert Teglia brought a Capitola commissioner, John Dixon, to Santa Cruz for the climactic night vote. Dixon had been ill and had planned not to attend.

When the matter came up at 11:30 p.m., there was a motion to continue it for another several weeks so the commission could get further information.

Daly City's City Manager David Rowe reminded the commissioners that the California Reginal Water Quality Control Board has ordered Daly City to stop dumping garbage at the Mussel Rock site by Aug. 15. The state agency made the decisions late last year, based on a fear that solid waste dumping would pollute the ocean if a landslide occurred.

The transfer station evolved in a plan to construct a building at the coastside site in which garbage could be compacted and transferred to large trucks for hauling to the county's Ox Mountain dump site at Half Moon Bay.

The facility was planned to serve Daly City, Pacifica and Broadmoor under the operation of Daly City and the Daly City Scavenger Co.

The commission had taken the plan, approved by the two city councils and San Mateo County, under consideration almost two months ago.

Several weeks ago, the commission's executive director, Edward Brown, had presented a staff recommendation which recommended denial of the transfer station application, because, he said, it did not constitute a "coastal dependent use."

The staff recommendation suggested that Daly City adopt an interim arrangement with the San Francisco Transfer Station until other sites could be re-evaluated.

But Rowe had told the commission that the San Francisco facility operators required Daly City to enter into a long-term contract before using the facility.

There was some discussion Monday of the staff's contention that the San Francisco operator, Leonard Stefanelli, had changed his mind about a long-term contract.

Rowe said such a change in policy would require board approval, which had not been ensured.

He won support from coastal commission member Fred Lyon, who is also a San Mateo County supervisor.

"If Daly City is locked into an agreement with San Francisco, they might very well be committed to a long-term contract," Lyon said. "Daly City would be hamstrung."

Commissioner Zad Leavy of Big Sur, however, said the commission "should do some gentle pushing to get Daly City together with the San Francisco facility board."

Commissioner Robley Levy concurred with Leavy that the matter should be continued for further talks with San Francisco.

However, Commissioner G. Joseph Marmont of Half Moon Bay urged a decision.

"You can continue these things forever. All that comes out of these continual continuances is a lot of rhetoric," Marmont said. "The situation is the best that can be made. You're eliminating an open dump and putting in a transfer station that's entirely closed."

Commissioner Ilene Weinreb of Hayward agreed that "if you have urban development in a coastal area, you will have to have the urban accouterments in a coastal area, too."

After the positive vote was taken, Teglia thanked the commission "for letting us take care of 190 tons of garbage for 135,000 people."

Rowe said he expects approval within six weeks on the transfer station application from the state Solid Waste Management Board, which previously had approved use of the site in a regional plan.

The city manager said he will discuss operation of the proposed station with Al Sereni, president of the Daly City Scavenger Co. Agreement on a contract should be reached within a month, Rowe added.

Council Study Session

Group of Broadmoor Residents Rap Pact

About 20 Broadmoor residents showed up Monday at Daly City City Council's study session to protest the proposed police service contract between the city and the unincorporated area.

The offer by Daly City's City Manager David Rowe to provide police service under a proposed seven to 10-year contract was on council's study session agenda, although a contract has not been drawn up yet by the city attorney.

Rowe's offer was accepted a week ago by the Broadmoor Police Commission and the Broadmoor residents were on hand to urge the council not to approve a contract.

Broadmoor Police Commissioner Wayne Johnson, who had provided the lone negative vote on the Daly City offer, told the councilmen that the proposed contract does not represent the will of the Broadmoor area's majority.

He noted that 70 per cent of the area's voters had voted last fall to raise taxes and retain the Broadmoor Police Department.

Randy Wall, president of the Broadmoor homeowners association, asked council whether a petition of 51 per cent of the area's voters opposing the contract would affect council's vote on the matter.

Mayor Pro Tem William Schumacher replied that he would prefer to look at the merits of the contract, rather than rely on a petition. He noted that people often sign petitions without knowing what they are petitioning.

However, Councilman Anthony Giammona said such a petition might be very persuasive to him as he makes a decision.

The council listened as several citizens complained about police service under the auspices of the Daly City Police Department.

The Daly City department has been administering the Broadmoor police "division" since Jan. 1 under a temporary, six-month contract.

A resident said he recently was petitioning against the move to Daly City when he was stopped by a Daly City police car on a Broadmoor street.

The man charged that the officer, along with two other backup officers, inquired rudely into his purpose and subjected him to humiliation.

Daly City's Police Chief David Hansen, who was present at the meeting on another matter, said he was aware of the incident. He explained that the department had received a soliciting complaint and the patrolman was checking it out.

Police Commissioner John McCloskey spoke briefly before the council, urging that the contract be signed. He said he voted for it because it represented the best solution for the Broadmoor officers and level of police service to the community.

In other study session business, the council looked at three proposals from City Atty. Albert Polonsky for a water rationing ordinance.

Following a May 9 water ordinance hearing, council members said they weren't satisfied with the 25 per cent reduction (over last year's usage) method of water rationing and requested Polonsky to

Budget Calls for Decrease In Daly City Tax Rate

A $14,712,640 operating budget proposal for 1977-78, providing for a decrease in the tax rate from $1.99 to $1.75 per $100, was presented to Daly City's City Council Monday night.

Although the working budget calls for a $.24 tax rate decrease, the average Daly City property owner would probably pay higher taxes due to reappraisal of property this year by San Mateo County.

The first budget study session will be held Thursday at 7 p.m. at council chambers in city hall.

The $14,712,640 proposed operating total tops the present spending level of $13,589,317 by $1,123,323, according to budget figures.

It's a "basic service level" budget, according to Ron Mitchell, assistant to the city manager, who has been working on the budget proposal.

Mitchell said 12 new city positions are being proposed in the budget for "a fourth of one per cent increase in personnel."

The new positions include seven police officers, an accounting office supervisor, an electrician trainee, an account clerk and a utility billing supervisor.

Revenues for the city are slated to increase from $12,829,861 ton $14,274,200 in the budget proposal. A chunk of the increase is seen property taxes — estimated to go from $3,474,410 to $4,258,000 in the coming year.

Some of the major increases in the budget include the following areas:

- Police Department. Currently $2,328,040, slated for $2,562,590.
- Fire Department. Currently $1,777,990, to increase to a proposed $1,830,090.
- General Insurance. Now $133,800, scheduled for $152,780.
- Employe Benefits. Currently $1,434,820, to a proposed $1,825,710.
- Recreation, Parks and Maintenance. Now $440,660. Foreseen to cost $497,610.

Decreases in the budget proposal are slated for the areas of community development, planning and zoning, streets, finance and accounting and city council.

Bayshore School District Stalls Contract for Teachers

A delay in reaching an agreement on a 1976-77 contract for certificated personnel has turned teachers in the tiny Bayshore School District into an unhappy group of employees.

The delay is further complicating matters by forestalling any action on the 1977-78 contract that the teachers presented to the board in January, agreed Dist. Supt. Guido Colla.

The teachers have been working without a contract since the opening of school and now fear they will find themselves in the same predicament at the close of the school year.

In lieu of a 1976-77 contract, the district's 22 teachers went to work last fall under a "Memorandum of Understanding." This was done because the teachers had not yet selected a bargaining unit under the Rodda Collective Bargaining Act.

Shortly after the memorandum was signed, the teachers selected the Bayshore School District Teachers Association (BSDTA) — an affiliate of the California Teachers Association — to represent them. On Oct. 28 the teachers presented the initial proposal to the board.

Reportedly no progress has been made since that proposal was submitted. Negotiations between the teachers and the district have broken down and an impasse has been declared. The BSDTA has filed an unfair labor practice charge against the district for what they allege is an unwillingness to bargain in good faith.

"Teachers in this district are not militant. They do not want to do anything that would interfere with the education of the children," said Peggy Stokes, BSDTA bargaining team chairwoman. "However," she added, "the teachers are becoming increasingly anxious over the delay in negotiations.

"Teachers in this district are known for the extra hours they put in before and after school," said Mrs. Stokes. "but some are now dashing out the door exactly at 3:30 p.m."

Ellen McAllister, BSDTA president, said, "The district had us sign a form agreeing to a $6.16 deduction from our monthly paycheck to cover an increase in medical insurance fees. We (the teachers) signed the form without realizing negotiations would take so long."

She added that the teachers are the only employee group in the district required to pay for the increase in fee from their own pockets.

The teachers' demands have dropped to an 11.8 per cent pay increase and an increase in fringe benefits.

"We told them we would be willing to compromise — work something out on a

Extortion Charge Against Youth, 17

A 17-year-old youth with a history of extortion attempts was arrested Monday morning by South San Francisco police on a similar charge.

Juvenile Officer Dennis Pinnatore arrested the youth, a student at Westmoor High School, and charged him with extortion.

The victim, police said, was a 14-year-old student who, they said, apparently had been victimized most of last week.

Police said the suspect allegedly beat up his victim and demanded $10 to refrain from administering another beating.

The suspect, police said, was previously involved in extortion during the summer session in and around Westmoor. He presently is on probation from an extortion conviction.

He was taken to Hillcrest Juvenile Hall in Belmont and will remain there pending a hearing.

Police credited school officials for cooperation in the arrest and for encouraging the victim to give a statement which helped put the case together.

16,000 Gallons Spill

Approximately 16,000 gallons of highly flammable acetone spilled from a huge tank at the DuPont plant in South San Francisco last Wednesday night.

There is no immediate danger, however, as the acetone was contained within a protective area around the tank, firemen said.

South City firemen were alerted to the spill at 1:56 a.m. Thursday, and responded with two engines and the department's chemical wagon.

Upon arrival, firemen began applying foam to the spillage. Hose lines were prepared as firemen readied in case they were needed.

Firemen will stay on the scene until plant officials finish pumping the acetone back into the repaired tank. Firemen were uncertain as to how the spillage occurred.

One fire department official on the scene said hebelieved the spill to be the largest in the DuPont plant's history.

Father Shocked At News of Death

A co-worker approached Ralph Slusarz at the Weyerhauser Co. plant in South San Francisco one recent morning and said he was surprised to see him at work.

"Why?" replied Slusarz, of 222 El Campo Drive, South San Francisco.

"Because your son was killed in an accident. I heard it on the radio," the worker told the shocked father.

According to Coroner's Investigator Steve Hortin, all news media had been requested not to release the name of the son, Philip Slusarz, 21, of 523 Chestnut St., San Carlos, who was killed early Wednesday when his pickup truck overturned on the Holly Street off ramp from Bayshore Freeway, until next-of-kin could be located and notified.

However, Hortin reported, one news station broadcast the son's name.

The father was taken home by the plant superintendent to break the sad news to young Slusarz's mother.

According to Highway Patrolman Charles Shero, the body of Slursarz lay for three hours in the crushed cab of his truck after it overturned.

The son had been out celebrating his 21st birthday according to authorities.

Can SF Block Concorde Now?

If New York cannot keep the noisy supersonic jet "Concorde" off its runways, can San Francisco?

That's the question at and around San Francisco International Airport this morning, following a court ruling in New York Wednesday that the Concorde cannot be kept out of Kennedy Airport.

"The San Francisco Airports Commission adopted a policy in 1970," said Airport public relations officer Warren Hanson, "that any new aircraft which meets the requirements of Federal Air Regulations, Part 36, would be permitted to land."

FAR Part 36 is that portion of federal air rules which concern noise, Hanson explained.

If the New York ruling means what it appears to, he said, "it would seem that the airport has no control over aircraft which can land here.

"If the airport has no control, it would seem that the airport also has no responsibility for noise generated by those aircraft.

"This ruling raises the legal question of who is responsible for aircraft noise."

Samuel Chandler

Once they were called school masters and regarded as "the prophets of the true God and the ushers in the true kingdom of God," as John Dewey wrote. Once they were told to realize the dignity of their calling as professional men and women along with medical doctors, lawyers and ministers. They lived in their communities and taught Sunday school, led choirs, planned the 4th of July celebration, directed the little theater groups and advised the mayor.

Once they taught seven or eight classes a day — one right after the other, supervised the hot lunch line, pulled hall duty and coached the tennis players and the senior class debate team. After hours they corrected hundreds of papers and planned the next day's lessons.

Now they are called certificated employes and bargain for wages and fringe benefits. Their professional organization has become a labor union. In every community they back their demands with strike threats and walkouts. Soliciting the aid of such organizations as the National Right to Work Legal Defense Foundation, they go to court to obtain the ends they desire.

THIS CHANGE in the image of school teachers is generating many books and periodical essays. The authors of some of them view with alarm the appearance of today's school teacher. With Bernard Bard, they warn that "the odds are 7 to 1 that the average child will be exposed to at least two unstable or disturbed teachers during 11 years of schools." In his article, "Unfeeling Teachers," in the "Ladies Home Journal" of March 1976, Bard notes that inept, insensitive and brutish teachers are protected by tenure laws and by a public that is too timid to discipline poor teachers.

In an article that appeared in the "National Review" for Feb. 18, 1977, Russell Kirk views with alarm the development of the activities of the National Education Association and the American Federation of Teachers. He warns that in 15 states, agency shops are allowed to be the exclusive bargaining unit for teachers, and teachers who won't join the union are compelled to pay fees.

He writes, "What the National Education Association and the American Federation of Teachers aim at is a total control of the finances and the politices of the public school system in every state. In short, private associations, teachers' unions, would usurp public authority over public instruction."

KIRK CONTINUES, "In consequence, the unions would lower the quality of public education — already low enough, Lord knows. For they would make sure that practically all freshly available funds would go for teacher,s increased salaries."

On the other hand, educators argue that, too long, teachers have received scant security or reward for devoted service. With Paul Friggens, whose article appeared in the February 1976 "Readers Digest," they cite situations like that described by T. H. Bell, U.S. Commissioner of Education. "Each year, we simply drew up a new salary schedule and presented it to the teachers as a gift from the benevolent father. And the teachers, hat in hand, said, 'Thank you.'"

The Facts Behind Skyrocketing Assessments

What's really causing real estate assessments to soar?

Your home was just reassessed upwards by as much as 80%. The cost of housing, both new and old has risen 60% or more in the last three years. Unless checked, the average new home will soon cost $100,000 and real estate taxes will drive many out of San Mateo County.

What's really making property assessments skyrocket? Is it government spending? Welfare? Higher salaries? What about more demands on government? Mismanagement of funds?

All of these things may be reflected in your final tax bill due this fall after county and city politicians develop their budgets and set tax rates. But none of them, no matter how controversial, have any bearing on your property assessment.

The Coalition believes it is time for some straight talk about property assessments and why they have risen so dramatically. We also feel an explanation is in order to retired people who can no longer afford their taxes and to young people who cannot afford to buy or rent in San Mateo County.

What is causing assessments to rise? Simply stated, there is only one reason:

The current housing shortage is directly to blame.

When there is no supply of any commodity and a high demand, the price goes up. (Current prices on coffee and water are examples.) This is what is happening to housing on the Peninsula.

By state law, assessments must equal 25% of a property's market value—the price you would expect to receive if you sold your home. When market values go up, assessments rise accordingly, and you can be certain that your taxes will reflect this increase.

Why does this shortage exist causing housing prices to skyrocket 2½ times faster than income?

There are two basic reasons:

1. Government restrictions on building in response to "anti-growth" advocates and self-styled "environmentalists," and
2. The cost of government permits, policies, requirements and conditions imposed on all new construction and development. This includes the tremendous cost of delays due to bureaucratic red tape. (One developer in our county has documented $18,000 per house for government delays alone.)

Actual construction starts in San Mateo County 1973-1977

	1973	1974	1975	1976	1977*
Single family	2,109	1,566	1,323	1,800	1,600
Multiple	4,047	600	609	1,050	1,200
Totals	6,156	2,166	1,932	2,850	2,800

Figures provided by the Associated Building Industry.
*Projected.

Average annual building starts necessary to meet county projections: 5,093.

Based upon projections by the Association of Bay Area Governments.

In plain words, what government doesn't stop, it makes expensive.

STOP-GROWTH COSTS

The "stop-growthers" are actually causing the housing shortage by putting road blocks in the way of nearly every development. They demand that government keeps everyone else out. They talk about density and overcrowding, the cost of growth, the need for controlling growth . . . and they end up demanding moratoriums on building while they do more planning. What they really mean, of course, is that they consider themselves to be the privileged few to live in San Mateo County.

You can see them at public hearings and behind the scenes, stopping the construction of needed housing, roads, water and sewage facilities. They don't want single-family housing unless it is twice as expensive as theirs and they absolutely won't tolerate apartments or multi-family housing anywhere near them.

They are vocal and politically relentless. The result is that not enough new homes (shelter of all types) can be built to meet the public's need. The law of supply and demand is even more relentless. This shortage causes the value of all housing, new and old, to be driven up. That's why even old sub-standard housing is outrageously high . . . and so are taxes based upon the new higher assessed property values.

Don't be mislead when they tell you growth costs. We have been in a no growth period for at least five years and taxes have gone out of sight. We have nothing to show for it all except acres of uncared-for open space which are off-limits to those who paid for them.

ENVIRONMENTAL COSTS

Those calling themselves "environmentalists" work in a different way. In their efforts to "save the hills and the farmlands," "preserve the coast" and "conserve vast open spaces" for all nature's creatures (except people), they manage to limit the amount of land that can be developed. (In our county, over 70% of the land has been "saved.") This is expensive. Builders pass on the huge costs caused by the delays and the cost of preserved and conserved land to you, the home buyer. You pay for all of it in your new 30-year mortgage. You also pay for the endless environmental reports and the lawsuits. You pay in your mortgage and in higher taxes. Worst of all, your children will pay dearly because of the lack of employment as well as homes.

THE COST OF THE BUREAUCRATS

Nothing has grown like the bureaucracy. There are so many different levels of government agencies, commissions and districts all regulating building and construction that it's a miracle anything can be developed. They weave their ribbons of red tape and coerce land and fees from builders in the good name of "planning, land use, schools and the environment."

Using federal, state and local laws passed in recent years, they completely control the "what, where, when" and to a large extent, the "cost" of all housing, utilities, roads and energy production.

The cost of government permits, conditions and delays in many communities now exceeds the total cost of labor needed to build the house.

In a recent opened development, it took four years to get the property through the government permit process, only four months to build the houses, and less than four hours to sell them.

HERE'S HOW YOU CAN HELP!

Our political leaders and the bureaucracy of government are responding to what they perceive is the public's voice. The voice they are hearing is loud and articulate, but we do not believe it represents you. If you would like to help slow and stabilize the price of housing and your property taxes, there are several things you can do.

First, you may put your dollars where your concerns are by sending a contribution to the Coalition in the form of membership dues. Just clip and mail the coupon below with your contribution. Whether you contribute $5 or $5,000, your assistance will help.

HOMEBUYERS, TAXPAYERS: Call or write your City Councilman, City Supervisor, State Senator and Assemblyman or the Governor. Let them know how you feel: how soaring housing costs, taxes and lost jobs are affecting you and your children.

BUILDERS, DEVELOPERS AND OTHERS CONCERNED WITH THE INDUSTRY: If your concern is real and you would like to do more than just grumble . . . if you, too, believe in a sensible approach to growth and want to help educate the public with additional messages of this type, support The Coalition and this effort. You can also join and support the efforts of this business, trade or professional association of your choice.

CONCERNED CITIZENS COALITION OF SAN MATEO COUNTY, INC.

A Real Taxpayers Association

We in The Coalition are not opposed to planning, it is a vital and necessary part of the urban development. We are also firm advocates of creating a better environment. However, we are opposed to the obstructionists who selfishly want to "stop the world." We are opposed to extremists in the environmental crusade who are encouraging government to transfer tremendous costs into the housing costs and taxes of others. And we are opposed to the bureaucracy that is strangling the vitality from the private sector with unrealistic requirements and causing costs to soar because of red tape and delays. We don't believe that growth and a better environment, a strong economy and jobs are incompatible goals. In fact, we firmly believe that a strong economy is essential to a better environment. The Coalition is a non-profit California corporation, a unique task force composed of concerned citizens, taxpayers, business and labor. For additional information, write or call

Band Rates High

The Regent

By MYLENE SCHWIMMER
Commissioner of Publicity

The Serramonte High School Concert Band recently participated in the Annual Band Festival at Canada College.

The band received a superior rating of "1", the highest score possible, from all three judges. This rating has never been achieved by the Serramonte Band.

If you would like to hear this superb band, come to the Serramonte Music Department's Spring Concert and potluck dinner May 25.

The Latin holiday of Cinco de Mayo is celebrated each year on May 5 by Serramonte Latino students.

The holiday was commemorated this year with a potluck dinner-dance, and the electing of a Cinco de Mayo king and queen. The winners were Bot Martinez and Rose Acevedo. They were crowned by last year's winners Willie Sandoval and Maria Lindo.

The first runners-up were Delia Rodriquez and Carlos Duharte; second were Nancy Rosado and Diego Bermudez; third were Sabrina Calija and John Obergon; and fourth were Anita Alcala and Ricardo Borja.

The winners were announced at a potluck dinner on May 5, which featured a Miriachi band and another Latin Band, Caprichos. The Cinco de Mayo celebration was enjoyed by all who attended.

Jim is a junior at Serramonte and a champion bowler. He has been bowling since he was six, and recently bowled a perfect game at the North-South State Scratch Tournament. This was the second 300 game of Jim's career.

Jim is an excellent athlete and some more "300's" can be expected from him in the future.

Multi Ethnic Days recently held at Serramonte were a success. During two of the three days, ethnic entertainment was held during lunch periods. On the third day, students were dismissed early to view and participate in ethnic booths.

Clubs participating in booths were French, German, Latino, Filipino, Black and Oriental. Freshmen sponsored an American booth.

Along with displayh sof flags and other artifacts, food, including burritos, fortune cookies, and crepes was sold.

Multi Ethnic Days were enjoyed by all and created an awareness of the different cultures at Serramonte.

During Open House held during the school day, the woodshop classes held their annual Open House Display.

Students and parents were invited to view the many projects which have been completed this year by woodshop students.

The N.P.L. Tennis Finals recently were held at Orange Park in South San Francisco. The tennis teams from each school were represented by two singles and two doubles teams.

Competitors from Serramonte were Lindsay Chu, #1 singles; Mike Rubin, #2 singles; Shawn Dolgin and Ramon Villafranca, #1 doubles team; Kurtis Wong and Gino Gonzalo, #2 doubles team; Lou Ciagnovich and Rusty Jurgenson, alternates and Sid Rosenthal, manager.

Lindsay Chu had an outstanding season and was unanimously chosen by the league's coaches as the number three singles player in the league.

Mike Rubin, a freshman, received praise from Jefferson's coach when th coach called Rubin "a player who could dominate the league."

Congratulations to the Serramonte tennis players who were chosen to compete in the finals.

Members of a special student selection committee have chosen Kevin Covington and Curtis Dennison to be Serramonte's representatives on next year's Student Advisory Board.

This board consists of two students from each local high school. The board meets with the district school superintendent and gives student viewpoints on important school issues.

Next year, two students from this committee will be chosen to serve as the youth liaison on the J.U.S.D. school board.

Congratulations to Kevin and Curtis for being selected.

On April 30, the Serramonte High School Concert Band participated in the Annual Band Festival at Canada College.

The band received a superior rating of "1", the highest score possible, from all three judges. This rating has never been achieved before by the Serramonte band. Congratulations to all the band members and to music teacher Jan Gaynor.

Pacifica Out of Pageant

The Pacifica Chamber of Commerce has decided not to send a representative to the county Fiesta Dream Girl beauty pageant next month, charging that the contest focuses only on looks.

"Our Miss Pacifica pageant is not the same type of pageant," explained Hazel Billmire, a chamber of commerce board member and the mother of last year's Miss Pacifica, Carol Miller.

"The Dream Girl pageant is strictly a beauty pageant, emphasizing face and figure. There are no interviews, no talent portion," she explained.

The chamber made the decision after speaking with Marcia Brickley. As runner-up in the Miss Pacifica Pageant, she would have been the city's representative in the Dream Girl contest.

"I feel very badly that we are not being represented," said Mrs. Billmire. "I have nothing against beauty pageants, but I think we're picking the wrong girls to enter the contest."

Miss Pacifica is chosen in a contest where judges base half of their decision on talent.

"The swimsuit part is strictly to judge posture, grooming and toning," said Mrs. Billmire.

"The girls wear well-covered swimsuits and no measurements are taken," she explained. The winner of the Miss Pacifica pageant receives a $750 schoolarship.

Emily McAdams, director of the Dream Girl pageant, said she has not yet had official word from Pacifica about the Chamber's decision not to participate, but she's heard from every other city in the county. The deadline is May 31.

Mrs. McAdams said Pacifica has been "harassing" her for some time about the contest. One Pacifica official called it a "meat show," she said.

"Pacifica has swimsuits and gowns just like we do," she explained.

"I think girls who don't have talent should have an opportunity to appear in a beauty pageant, too. We're not training them for show biz. We help them develop poise and self confidence."

Mrs. McAdams, who has run the Dream Girl pageant since it began 25 years ago, said she interviews the participants and invites them to a luncheon press party before the pageant night.

Younger Presents Tax Plans

Attorney General Evelle Younger presented a legislative package to a San Mateo County audience last week which would produce a better California business climate and a hard line stand on law and order.

The remarks were made at the Annual Meeting of the Concerned Citizens Coalition, a local organization espousing economic growth.

An elimination of the inventory tax and another attempt at increasing interest rates on business investments were key segments of his proposals. Both actions are necessary, he declared to keep business in California and to entice others to the state.

Streamlining of the permit process for development was included along with consideration of penalties for those who indulge in costly, frivolous lawsuits designed to delay development projects.

Although Younger has not officially announced his candidacy for the Republican Party's gubernatorial nomination, he is considered the front runner. He said an announcement would be made in January 1978.

The evening gave the Coalition a new Board of Directors and a new president. Robert Desky, a San Mateo attorney, replaced Thomas Hunter, a co-founder of the organization and four-term president.

Daly City received an environmental award for a reservoir-tennis court development. Half Moon Bay Properties was honored for Ocean Colony.

Millbrae to Tighten Regulations

While it rained lightly outside last Tuesday, the Millbrae City Council took steps to amend the water rationing ordinance it adopted only two weeks ago.

The council introduced provisions for a three-member citizen appeals board to handle the complaints of water users who think they've been treated unfairly.

It also made clear its intention to raise the fines that will be charged excess water users.

Both amendments are to be voted upon and attached to the existing ordinance at the next council meeting.

Millbrae adopted its rationing ordinance — calling for a 25 per cent reduction on each customer's bill based on last year's usage — on April 26. City Administrator Lee Horner said Millbrae residents decreased their consumption 25 per cent from April 9 to May 9, compared to the same period the previous year.

However, council members pointed out that it's apparent some Millbrae residents still are not down to the 25 per cent figure while others have cut back as much as 50 per cent.

The Appeals Board was proposed by Councilman Frank Cannizzaro, who said there are bound to be citizen complaints about the effect of the rationing system.

"I don't know of any system that's going to be 100 per cent satisfactory to everyone," Cannizzaro said. It's advantageous for both the citizens and the city to have a board to handle those complaints, he said.

Three Millbrae residents will be selected for the board, which will meet as needed. The board will replace a provision in the rationing ordinance that gives the city administrator the job of handling appeals.

Originally, Cannizzaro intended the Appeals Board to have the final, binding decision on any water use matter. However, the council eventually agreed that the council itself should have the final decision if a resident still wants to appeal the decision of the Appeals Board.

Cannizzaro said the three members who are approved by the council should be sensitive to both the water problems of Millbrae residents and the city's urgent need to maintain at least a 25 per cent citywide reduction.

The excess use charged expected to be adopted by the City Council was proposed by Councilman Bernard Esser.

Customers who exceed their monthly allotment will be charged $2 for each unit up to 11, $4 for each unit from 12 to 34 and $20 for each unit over 35 units.

A unit is 100 cubic feet or 748 gallons of water.

Council members debated whether to adopt that proposal or another, more severe penalty system proposed by Councilman Tullio Bertini.

Bertini had recommended charging $10 for each unit from one to 10 units, $20 from 11 to 30 units and $40 for each unit over 30 units.

Bertini said it was the only way to ensure that consumers will recognize the seriousness of the drought.

The ordinance that was adopted called for an excess use charge of only $1 each unit over a customer's monthly allotment.

"A lot of people are taking the drought lightly," Bertini said. The city, he said, shouldn't make it easy for residents to use more water than they are allotted.

However, Esser argued that the council should "have some faith in the integrity of people." Less severe fines for ohly a few units of excessive use will not penalize residents who simply slip a bit each month by accident.

A proposal by Bertini to amend the ordinance allowing for a water allotment for each person, rather than a 25 per cent flat reduction, went unsupported by the council, as it has in the past.

Bertini has consistently argued that the 25 per cent reduction penalizes persons who have been conserving all along. He attempted to convince his colleagues again but failed.

He proposed that each resident be allotted 60 gallons each day from November to March and 85 gallons from April to October. That would allow, he said, for greater water needs during warmer months of the year.

In the meantime, he said, the adopted method of a flat 25 per cent reduction is satisfactory.

Millbrae Joins in Unemployment Suit

The Millbrae City Council is contributing $2,500 to a nationwide lawsuit to overrule the Unemployment Compensation Act of 1976 — a program that is expected to cost Millbrae $25,000 in 1977-78 alone.

The National League of Cities is preparing the suit and has asked affected cities throughout the country to join in.

The federally mandated tax on states, cities and counties will go into effect on Jan. 1, 1978, but the NLC and many city officials say it is an unconstitutional act.

The NLC, Millbrae City Administrator Lee Horner said, is seeking at least a preliminary injunction that could be in effect for as long as three years — until the case ultimately reaches the Supreme Court.

Horner pointed out that only those cities that are a party to the suit will benefit from the litigation. Cities that are not a party to the suit will be required to begin paying Unemployment Compensation taxes on Jan. 1, regardless of the situation in court.

Horner said that even if the Supreme Court rules in favor of the act, the City of Millbrae could realize a financial savings. The suit is expected to take at least three years and during that time, the $2,500 contribution will be earning interest — enough to probably offset the cost of participation in the suit, he said.

In other matters, the council:

• Approved a $280 allocation to the county Participatory Records and Information System (PRISM).

• Read for the first time an ordinance that will increase business license fees by 15 per cent, the first increase since 1974. The increase is expected to raise revenues to the city by more than $10,000 a year.

Poll Finds Financial Optimism

In spite of persistent pessimism about inflation, most Californians remain confident about their personal financial well-being, according to a consumer attitude survey conducted for Bank of America

Of 918 Californians queried in the survey, 44 per cent said they are better off now than they were a year ago. Twenty-two per cent said they were worse off and 31 per cent said their status hadn't changed.

The index of consumers' perception of their personal financial well-being, the bank reported, moved ahead six points to 122 in March from 116 last December. The index is formed by subtracting the percentage of negative responses from the percentage of positive responses and adding 100.

The personal financial outlook of consumers fell slightly, from an index of 138 to 135. When asked what they see for the future, 46 per cent of responding consumers said they will be better off next year, 11 per cent indicated they will be worse off and 34 per cent said they could foresee no change in their situation.

Confidence that inflation can be controlled, however, has fallen off significantly. The index now stands at 74, representing a 16 point drop from the January reading, the bank said. It was an all-time low for the indicator since bi-monthly surveys were begun two years ago.

Only six per cent of the people surveyed were confident that inflation can be controlled. Forty per cent indicated they weren't very confident and 20 per cent were not confident at all.

Daly City Prepares Contract

A Daly City contract to provide police service to Broadmoor should be ready for the Daly City Council to consider by its May 23 meeting.

City Manager David Rowe said the proposed contract may come up at the Monday City Council study session, but since City Atty. Albert Polonsky has been out of town, contract work has not been completed.

The Broadmoor Police Commission decided to accept the Daly City offer April 28 after several months of discussion.

The proposed cost to Broadmoor residents in 1977-78 would be $206,700 at a $1.06 per $100 of Broadmoor assessed valuation.

The seven-to ten-year preliminary contract proposal made by Rowe states that the $1.06 rate would not escalate to more than $1.20 during the life of the contract.

Broadmoor police officers currently are under the Daly City wing in a temporary administrative contract, which will expire June 30. The temporary arrangement began Jan. 1 when the Broadmoor Police Protection District was having insurance difficulties.

The contract is expected to be approved by Daly City's City Council and then go to Assistant Dist. Atty. George Camerlengo for a San Mateo County check of its legality.

Brunan Guilty of Assault

A jury Wednesday convicted a 37-year-old San Bruno man of three felonies in connection with the assault of a 22-year-old Foster City woman at her home last Nov. 18.

Charles Alexander Drushal, who testified that it wasn't he who attacked the woman, was convicted of assault with a deadly weapon, assault with the intent to commit rape and burglary.

San Mateo County Superior Court Judge C. Brooks Ice, who presided over the jury trial, scheduled sentencing for May 31.

The woman was beaten when she returned to her apartment after briefly stepping out to check her mailbox. She suffered facial cuts, a bloody nose and blackened eyes in a scuffle with the assailant.

Deputy Dist. Atty. John P. Oakes prosecuted.

Airman Is Selected

John D. Hollinrake Jr., son of Mrs. Jackie H. Hollinrake of 916 Beach Park Blvd., Foster City, has been selected for technical training at Sheppard AFB, Tex., in the Air Force aircraft maintenance field.

Young City Council Hounds Water Hogs

By TERRY DAVENPORT

High school students hemmed and hawed, broke up the audience into laughter and passed some incisive ordinances Wednesday night as they took on the roles of the Millbrae City Council, staff and local officials.

The 19 students were selected from among 68 local juniors and seniors by the Millbrae Lions Club on the basis of essays they had written on the topic, "Why I'm interested in being involved in city government." Youth in Government night is one of several events taking place this week as part of the Millbrae Lions Youth Week.

Assuming the role of mayor, Darrell Steinberg, started the meeting off with a bang as he slammed his gavel on a pencil. He quickly encountered his first problem when he discovered that his microphone was not functioning.

Sitting in the same chair that his father, Councilman Bernie Esser, usually occupies, "Councilman" Brandt Esser proposed a 25 per cent cutback in water based on last year's levels, advocating fines for excessive users.

"City Administrator" Abraham Hsieh countered with an amendment calling for uniform allotment.

During a stormy public hearing, about 15 students criticized Esser's proposed ordinance from every angle.

"Fire Chief" Ken Begun noted, "A person that was bogging last year would benefit this year."

Said "Councilwoman" Yvonne Albert, "The people who are going to have to really cut back are those who are already saving."

"City Clerk" Kristin Schaffarzick had a suggestion that was greeted with applause by the audience. "I think the local newspapers should publish the names of those who have to pay fines," she said.

A ping-pong debate ensued between the "city attorney," Kurt Grainer, and "Congressman," Randall Bass over the issue of whether or not pools would become health hazards and crack if the water level receded.

As he fielded the criticism, Esser commented wryly that he wished he hadn't introduced the ordinance. A vote of the council passed the ordinance with Hsieh's amendment calling for uniform allotment.

The issue of a fireworks ban sparked more controversy, with "Councilman" Mark Swanson proposing controlled displays of fireworks and "Fire Chief" Ken Begun calling for an all-out ban.

A member of the audience, Alan Coyne (president of the Millbrae Lions Club), said in a thick British accent, "A ban on fireworks wouldn't do much good at all. The time right now is approximately one month before July 4 — a celebration, which, in my estimation, should never have come about."

Coyne noted that Millbrae residents could buy fireworks in neighboring cities which have not banned their sale.

A comment about the stand of the actual Millbrae City Council was striken from the record as "irrelevant" at "City Atty." Kurt Oreiner's request.

Only Mark Swanson voted against closing the public hearing, "I thought I'd make it interesting," he commented.

The meeting lapsed into confusion as the mayor tried to decide the proper procedure. "Do I hear a motion to waive the reading of the motion? Does thatsound like what we should do?" be asked.

Meanwhile, Randall Bass calmly noted that the tape recorder was spilling tape all over the floor.

A motion that included Swanson's amendment for controlled fireworks displays passed, 4-1, with Esser casting the only "no" vote.

Esser also was the lone dissenter in a vote taken on an ordinance calling for smoking areas in privately owned public-buildings, such as theaters and restaurants. The ordinances requires owners to designate not more than 50 per cent of the total seating area as a smoking area.

"Congressman" Bass presented a lively argument in favor of painting a red "no parking" line on his street in Millbrae, Vista Grande.

He broke off portions of a long stick to illustrate the three to nine-inch clearance for passing cars resulting when cars are parked on both sides of the street.

But his proposal for action was frustrated when "City Attorney" Greiner pointed out, "Council appears to be voting on a motion it has never seen."

That didn't deter Bass. He run to the front table and flashed a copy of his motion in front of each council member. His request was passed, 5-0.

The "council" also:

• Took under consideration a suggestion by "Park and Recreation Director" Eric Andresen that reclaimed waste water be used on city shrubs, so that pure water may be used to water lawns.

Florist's Estate Filed

The final inventory and appraisment of South San Francisco floral pioneer Roderick I. McLellan's estate totals $1,177,464, according to documents filed in San Mateo County Superior Court Thursday by a tax referee.

McLellan, credited with the concept of retailing orchids, died last June 14 in Redwood City after an illness. He was 73.

His South San Francisco nursery, at 1450 El Camino Real, was a floral showplace.

McLellan, with a degree from Stanford in botany, assumed his father's floral business in the early 1930s when it was little more than a hobby.

According to documents filed by referee Richard Henson, of San Francisco, the nursery and property is worth $910,000.

McLellan, who left his estate to his widow Lorraine, also owned shares of stock in his company valued at $200,000.

His community and separate property also included stocks and bonds and a certificate of membership in the California Golf Club of San Francisco, dating back to Nov. 21, 1945, appraised at $2,400.

McLellan's widow, who resides in Hillsborough, is executrix of the estate.

Noted Ballet Dancer to Speak

With ballet as the program theme, Leslie Crockett, administrator of the San Francisco Ballet School, will be speaker for The Friends of the Daly City Library Annual Meeting Thursday, May 26, 7:30 p.m., in the community room, Serramonte Library.

According to the program chairman, Mrs. Hubert Sandefur, Leslie plans to discuss the ballet school, which is allied with the San Francisco Ballet Company, the oldest professional company in the United States. The school gives training to students who wish to become professional dancers. Student Kathy Dugan will demonstrate ballet.

The public can attend free of charge.

Mrs. Albert Teglia will preside at a brief business meeting before the program. Officers for 1977-78 will be elected and gifts will be presented to the library.

Leslie Crockett's parents, both ballet dancers, started dancing when the San Francisco Ballet Company was first formed. They later opened their own school in Sacramento, and this is where Leslie, then seven years old, and her sister began dancing.

After graduating from high school, Leslie came to San Francisco Ballet on a scholarship and danced there for several years before dancing with Alan Howard's Pacific Ballet as a soloist. New York beckoned and she danced in musical comedy on Broadway — "Hello, Dolly" with Ginger Rogers and "Mame" with Celeste Holm.

Back again on the West Coast, she taught in her mother's school for four years. The next two years saw her dancing with San Francisco Ballet. She is now an administrator in the school and her sister in the company.

Kathy Dugan, who will demonstrate, is in the school's highest class. Leslie considers her to have both "great technique and a dynamic personality."

General Plan Is Okayed

Arguing long into the night, the Pacifica City Council decided recently to hire a consulting firm to develop a general plan for the city at a cost of $98,000. It postponed action on a proposed 21 per cent increase in sewer charges.

Nick Gust was the only council member to vote against the hiring of Ironside and Associates to prepare a general plan. The comprehensive, 16-month study will focus on the entire city and its needs, including state-mandated elements and additional considerations.

"The city now has a general plan, which is generally agreed by most people to be irrelevant to the city's needs and out-of-date," said City Manager Don Weidner.

He said the current city plan was drawn up in 1969.

A budget of $130,000 for a general plan is included in the proposed budget, currently being discussed by the council, Weidner said. Pacifica also has applied to the Coastal Zone Conservation Commission for coastal planning grants, which might further offset the $98,000 tab for the new city plan, Weidner said.

The council argued for nearly two hours concerning proposed sewer charge increases, then asked the staff for further information and held off on a decision.

In other action, the council:

- Opposed an expansion proposal of the Local Agency Formation Commission membership to include special districts.
- Decided to contribute $2,500 toward a national lawsuit (the National Institution of Municipal Law Officers vs. the federal government) requiring cities to provide unemployment compensation insurance.
- Directed its staff to repeal the local Coastal Zone Commission's rejection of Pacifica's proposed corporation yard. Said Weidner, "The Sharp Park District objected, the commission rejected and the council is dejected."

Millbrae Talks Progress

By BILL HURSCHMANN

Negotiations officially are underway in the Millbrae School District for the 1977-78 contract proposal.

And, as all affiliated parties have indicated, it is simply too early to judge just how sticky negotiations could become.

The Millbrae Education Association last week received the district's initial response to its contract proposal for the school year 1977-78. From that basis, negotiations began last Tuesday afternoon.

The Education Association is seeking a cost of living increase of 6.5 per cent (based on a March-to-March cost of living hike) and a 3 per cent salary raise. Also sought is binding arbitration and a comprehensive package of fringe benefits.

Dr. Edward J. Muehlhausen, the district's superintendent, said the district has responded with a proposal to maintain the present salary schedule (which would include a 2.25 per cent advancement schedule for teachers). The district also has responded with a proposal not to make any changes in the fringe benefit package.

But, perhaps the stickiest point in negotiations could be the proposal for binding arbitration. The Board of Trustees, in a statement presented by Board President Theodore N. Dimitre, indicated it is totally opposed to binding arbitration.

"We're opposed to the concept of binding arbitration," Dimitre said Thursday, "because it puts the final decision in the hands of outsiders who have no real concept of our district and its problems.

"But, we really don't know if this will be a touchy area. The teachers asked for binding arbitration last year, and didn't receive it," the board president said.

"We really haven't spoken on any specific items. At this point it is really not appropriate to say anything.

The Times

San Mateo County's Leading Daily Newspaper

Le Pacini

Analyze the Warriors all you want, and when you're finished, what it all comes down to, in simplest terms, is that during the seventh game of the semi-finals, the Warriors' two top scorers (Rick Barry and Phil Smith) accounted for half the points they averaged per game during the regular season, and that their hot hand off the bench (Charles Johnson), who is there for just such occasions, was completely shut out.

Scoring — or lack of — is what did it, no matter what anybody says. WHY they didn't score is a whole other analysis. The Lakers were pretty rotten in that game themselves. How often does a team shoot 41 per cent from the floor and win going away?

As for the rest of it, don't be too harsh on the Warriors. They still had a good winning season, they did make the playoffs, and they did it all with more nagging and serious injuries than they've had in three years.

CLIFFORD RAY played every game in pain from leg injuries, and his overall effectiveness was undoubtedly limited. And don't believe that the loss of strong forwards Derrek Dickey and Dwight Davis for virtually the entire season didn't hurt. Davis' absence may have been a minimal loss, since he never played up to his potential in the 33 games in which he did manage to participate because he was still rounding into shape after pre-season injuries had gotten him off to a late start when he was finally hurt for good. Dickey's loss was another story.

While Dickey did manage to play in 49 games, in many of those he was already playing hurt before the final fractured ankle. But when he was playing injury-free, Dickey seemed to be on the way to his best season. Despite often playing hurt, for every 48 minutes Dickey played, he was averaging 20.3 points, 13.4 rebounds, and 3.5 assists. Dickey might have been the one hot shooter the Warriors needed in that finale against Los Angeles.

DON'T BE TOO HARSH on the Giants, either. For one of the lowest salaried teams in baseball, they're handling themselves respectfully. Keep in mind that they're undoubtedly in the toughest division in baseball. In fact, until the Yankees and Phillies prove it, I'd have to say that the Giants are in the same division with the two best teams in all of professional baseball.

Ironically, what's hurting the Giants most thus far is that which was supposed to carry them: their starting pitching. (The relieving has been outstanding.) The only consolation is that Jim Barr, Lynn McClothen and Ed Halicki all have histories as slow starters, especially halicki.

At that, as this is written the Giants' pitching staff has an earned run average at least one full run lower than that of the As, who were also supposed to survive on pitching.

But — and the ironies cut deeper — the As have been living on their hitting, which so far is much stronger than last year, when they had the million dollar sluggers. Actually, the Giants — primarily because of Willie McCovey's refusal to grow old — are also hitting better than had been expected.

ARE YOU READY for some deep, heavy baseball trivia? Ready or not, here it comes:

Everybody knows that Roger Bresnahan was the first catcher to wear shin guards. In fact, he invented them. His inspiration came from having watched a cricket game. He noticed that the bowler wore shin protectors, so he reasoned that there was no reason why a baseball catcher couldn't utilize such contraptions. He introduced them in 1908 to cries of "sissy."

But I digress. Since everybody knows that Bresnahan invented and first wore shin guards, the real trivia question is: who was the first umprie to wear a mask and when did he do it?

Give up, because you'll never guess. It was an ump named Dick Higham, who wasn't an especially good ump but who specialized in doing the unusual. He was also the only known umpire in big league history to be barred from the game for dishonesty. He was found to be in collusion with gamblers. He first wore the mask in 1882 and was kicked out of the game after the end of that season.

Everybody knows that Mike "King" Kelly, of "slide, Kelly, slide" fame was a great early day base stealer, but did you know that he is generally credited with having "invented" the hit-and-run?

Kelly was one of the early game's great innovators, and it was because of his cunning that many of the early-day rules were changed.

FOR EXAMPLE: Once, when he was playing for the Chicago White Stockings, a catcher named "Silver" Flint was handling chores behind the plate against Detroit. Kelly was on the bench. Detroit filled the bases. A hit would win the game for them. The batter hit a foul pop fly out of reach of both Flint and the first baseman. With the ball still in the air, Kelly shouted, "Flint, you're out of the game!" Then Kelly caught the ball, and continued the game as catcher. Actually, the umpire didn't allow it, but Kelly, who had the rule book memorized, argued his case so convincingly, that he caused rules on substitutions to be revised because of that play.

While we're still in Chicago, it was Charley Comisky, the "Old Roman" who later established the American League Chicago dynasty, who first played first base — when he was a player — away from the bag. Until Comisky, first basemen played the bag like they were glued to it.

Getting more modern, who hit the first homerun in the Astrodome? You'll never guess, because it was an American Leaguer named Mickey Mantle, who did it in an exhibition game on Apr. 9, 1965. Houston won the game in 12 innints, 2-1.

While we're on Mantle, who was the guy who started the craze known as "tape-measure homeruns," which was inspired by Mantle? It was Red Patterson, a former newspaperman then doing publicity for the Yankees, who started measuring the young Mantle's gargantuan swats.

SPEAKING OF HOMERUNS, who was the first big leaguer to hit three in one game? It was Ned Williamson, who accomplished the fete while playing for the Chicago Natgionals on May 30, 1884, at Lake Park.

Previous to Williamson's effort, a ball hit over a wall was a double. Williamson hit his three in the third game after the rule was changed. It makes one wonder if old Ned may have done it more often before the new rule went into effect, and hit more homers in one season than the 27 he hit that year, which at the time was the all-time single season record. He hit 25 that year in Chicago, and was, in fact, the record Babe Ruth cracked when he hit 29 in 1919.

Curiously, the man whose record took 35 years to break hit only eight homers in six seasons before 1884, and only 28 more in the six years he played following that season.

While we're on it, who was the first player to hit FOUR homeruns in a single game? It was Bobby Lowe, a 150-pound Boston (NL) second baseman who accomplished it on Memorial Day in 1894. Lowe hit only 13 other homers that season and only 70 in an 18-year major league career.

FROM TEE TO GREEN

Wildcats Kick Cosmos To Take Soccer Title

Sponsored by the Westlake International Youth Soccer Club, the Wildcats defeated the San Francisco Vikings Cosmos in the final game 7-0 to become the undefeated and untied champions in the second round Flame league soccer competition. They were coached by Mike Salvemini and sons Ronnie, Danny, and sometimes Lennie, the latter three all potential members of the United States Olympic Soccer squad for 1980.

In the last game the Wildcats showed that, despite their tender age, they had absorbed the concept of team-working along with individual ball control skills. Playing in seven-a-side matches, each had ball possession more often than in the regular 11, a side version of soccer.

Top scorer of the team was Mike Salvemini, Jr., who can beat a goalie from difficult angles and is capable of running through the opponent's defense once he has the ball. Matt Cannon again scored on a powerful freekick in the final game and showed why he is so valuable in the center-halfback position. David Ahern, David Ducot and Chris Strong, who converted a penalty in the last outing, all are steadily improving in ball control and can score if they glimpse an opportunity.

Greg Lenzini, though easily overlooked by the opposing teams, is very quick on the turn. He is quite capable of placing an accurate pass for a teammate or else beat the goalie himself as he did during the last game.

On the contrary the Dioli twins, Morgan and David are never overlooked by the other teams as they, on long legs, outstride defenders and forwards both. The opposition is confused by their switching positions.

Rich Bacchi is the ninth member of the team, as he along with the others play both offense and defense, because the coaches rotate all the "Wildcats" during each game.

Three more teams from the Westlake International Youth Soccer Club also competed in the league and have begun to emulate the teamwork of the Wildcats so that the future of Westlake soccer is in the feet of these young boys and girls.

Telstars Capture Tourney

The Telstars Junior Teen Club combined team work and spirit as they claimed victory over Westlake in the championship game of the 15th Annual Junior Teen Club Volleyball Tourney at Westlake Community Center recently.

The tournament, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department, hosted seven teams from the four active teen clubs in Daly City: the Telstars from the Westmoor area, Westlake, Eastside from Colma School, and Bayshore from Robertson School.

The gym was hopping with excitement as Coaches Manual Solis and Wayne Lukaris guided their team to triumph to upset highly favored Westlake, which finished a close second. Highly spirited Bayshore finished third while Eastside came in fourth.

Although all teams were high in enthusiasm, the annual "Spirit and Sportmanship" trophy was awarded to the Bayshore Club, coached by Terry Richards and Diana Tooley. Bayshore was voted the club with the most outstanding drive, sportmanship and general team play.

Daly City Junior Teens are encouraged to join in the activities of the club based nearest their home. The teen programs feature a variety of dances, parties, activity nights and trips as well as co-rec tournaments. For further information, contact the recreation office.

NELL NORTON

Good morning, good cooks.

A ground beef and rice stuffing, temptingly seasoned with onion, tomato and a measure of Worcestershire sauce is one of the best things to happen to a cabbage leaf. This is a healthful family main dish, thrifty and easily prepared, but you can serve it proudly to guests whose tastebuds know what's good.

SAVORY STUFFED CABBAGE

1 small head cabbage
1 Tablespoon oil
1 cup chopped onions
1 can (1 lb.) tomatoes, broken up
3 beef bouillon cubes
1 cup water
5 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce, divided
1 pound ground lean beef
3 Tablespoons raw rice
1 egg
2 Tablespoons water
2 Tablespoons firmly packed brown sugar

Pour boiling water over cabbage to cover. Let stand for 15 minutes. Break apart leaves; set aside.

In a large saucepan, heat the one tablespoon oil. Add the cup of chopped onions; saute for 2 minutes. Stir in the pound of tomatoes, three bouillon cubes, one cup water and three teaspoons Worcestershire sauce. Bring to boiling point. Reduce heat and simmer, covered, for 30 minutes.

Meanwhile mix the pound of beef with the three tablespoons raw rice, one egg, two tablespoons water and remaining two teaspoons Worcestershire sauce. Place a tablespoon of meat and rice filling in each cabbage leaf; tuck in sides and roll up. Place any extra cabbage in sauce. Arrange stuffed cabbage on top; sprinkle with the two tablespoons brown sugar.

Cover and simmer for 1½ hours. Uncover and simmer until sauce is slightly thickened, about 20 minutes.

Yield: About 16 stuffed cabbages; 4 to 6 servings.

College Board Funds Spring Endeavors

A proposal to increase offerings in the community service programs at Skyline College in San Bruno and Canada College in Redwood City was approved Wednesday night by the board of trustees of the San Mateo County Community College District.

A total of $6,550 was allocated to the two schools to bolster their spring endeavors.

The allocation involves three special programs: a May 19 tennis clinic at Canada, a May 27 lecture by Dr. Rollo May at Canada and a May 21 performance by Jack Aronson and Claudia Cummings at Skyline.

In other matters, the board:

• Approved the purchase of a special van for handicapped students at Skyline. It will cost nearly $11,700.

• Approved a set of agreements with independent contractors. One of those is Edmund Gleazer, a noted expert on community colleges who will speak at 2 p.m. May 18 at the College of San Mateo. His fee is $500.

• Learned that district officials and representatives of the California Teachers Association and the American Federation of Teachers were scheduled to meet today to discuss a possible election. The election would determine which group would win the right to represent all district instructors during contract negotiations. Without such a single agent, there can be no effective bargaining with the district.

The CTA and the AFT have been vying for more than a year for supremacy in the district. Up to now, the teachers have not been able to submit even a preliminary 1977-78 salary proposal because of the dispute.

• Listened to a presentation on a student evaluation of teachers at CSM. More than half of the school's day division faculty was surveyed by some 7,000 students. The results have been printed in a 40-page booklet available for 75 cents at the CSM bookstore.

Agency Honors 24 Volunteers

Twenty-four county residents were honored by the Volunteer Bureau / Voluntary Action Center for their outstanding service to the community at a luncheon last month at the Assistance League Chapter House in San Mateo.

Mrs. William O. Hetts, president of the Volunteer Bureau, and Supervisor Edward Baccoccio presented distinguished service awards as part of the celebration of National Volunteer Week.

San Mateo residents honored were Will Bennett (Peninsula YMCA), Addie Keller (Women's Rehabilitation Association), Charlotte Allen (United Way of the Bay Area) and Charles Gollen and Gertrude Fuller (Volunteers in Probation).

Honored from Burlingame were Joseph Aliamus (American Red Cross), James Minto (San Mateo Boy's Club), Carl Reyna (Burlingame Recreation Department) and Le Bushias (Peninsula Humane Society).

Millbrae resident Ruth Maynard was honored for her many contributions to that city. Norma Quickert, Maureen Glew and Cecelia Leone of San Bruno have given service to Head Start, the San Bruno Library and Consumers Act Now, respectively.

The Coastside is represented by Wayne Goodman, a young man who has been involved with high school students in Half Moon Bay.

Beverly Guillory of Belmont has been a longtime volunteer at the Crystal Springs Rehabilitation Center, working with severly handicapped and geriatric patients.

The American Red Cross has nominated Susan Styve, R.N., of Daly City and the Daly City Recreation Department is honoring Virgel Davis.

Help Wanted

The following agencies have requested volunteer assistance from the Volunteer Bureau/Voluntary Action Center of San Mateo County.

CAPTURE — A county-wide citizens' crime prevention program is seeking volunteers to help in the San Mateo office with folding brochures, mailing and light typing.

PLANNED PARENTHOOD — An orientation and training session for new volunteers will take place on the mornings of June 1, 2, 8 and 9. Volunteers are needed for the San Mateo, Pacifica and Redwood City clinics as family planning counselors, receptionists and clinicians. An interview is required prior to the training.

BIG BROTHERS — Male volunteers to establish one-to-one relationships with young boys in need of male companions.

MILLS HOSPITAL — An orientation session will take place on Saturday for persons interested in volunteering at the hospital. Both men and women are needed.

CHILDREN'S RECEIVING HOME — Persons to tutor at the Annex School located at the Crystal Springs Rehabilitation Center. This is one-to-one tutoring in reading, mathematics and English for boys and girls from 12 to 17 years of age.

AID TO VICTIMS AND WITNESSES — There are many opportunities to participate in this program which offers assistance to victims and witnesses of violent crimes. Volunteers act as witness guides at the courthouse and aid victims in many ways including helping file for state compensation. Complete training and direction is provided for all volunteers.

Additional information about these and other volunteer opportunities can be obtained by contacting the Volunteer Bureau, 119 Primrose Road, Burlingame. The office is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Branch offices are located in Redwood city and Daly City.

A project of the Assistance League of San Mateo County, the bureau shares in the United Way of the Bay Area and is funded, in part, by the county of San Mateo.

District Attorney Takes on Councilman

Dist. Atty. Keith C. Sorenson has filed a civil lawsuit against Pacifica councilman and restauranteur Nick Gust, alleging that Gust refused to allow health inspectors to destroy 15 bottles of allegedly contaminated liquor last December.

Consumer Fraud Chief John David Garvic said that the Health Safety Code empowers health inspectors to destroy bottles of liquor which contain contamination.

Garvic said that an inspector last December identified 15 bottles of liquor at Nick's Restaurant which allegedly contained fruit fly, but Gust refused to let him destroy them.

The complaint further alleges that Gust refused to allow a further health inspection of the restaurant.

Also, the complaint alleges that Nick's has failed to meet certain structural requirements for restaurants.

The action seeks an injunction against future violations, an order for corrective actions, the costs of the suit and civil penalties.

Deputy Dist Atty. Daniel J. Furniss said that filing of the complaint was delayed because of informal discussions concerning a settlement and the workload of the DA's consumer fraud staff.

Sweeping Health Changes Proposed

By DUANE SANDUL

San Mateo County may be facing more changes in health delivery.

Dr. George Pickett, director of the county Department of Health and Welfare, asked the Board of Supervisors Tuesday to:

• Discontinue the "satellite" health center at Fair Oaks Community Center in Redwood City, saving $614,000. Eighteen positions would be deleted.

• As an alternative to the primary medical care service offered at the Fair Oaks Clinic, establish a prevention oriented Family Health Service to serve the same medically indigent population. The service, with seven employes housed at the department's office on Charter Street in Redwood City, would cost $134,540.

• Discontinue the Health Department's bus service between Chope Community Hospital in San Mateo and the Coastside because of the development of SamTrans routes.

• Delete 24 positions at Chope Hospital effective July 1, 14 of which presently are unfilled due to a county hiring freeze. The positions proposed for deletion represent a budget cost of $342,303.

The Fair Oaks and Chope recommendations are contained in separate reports which the supervisors will formally receive at their regular meeting.

Pickett notes that the board ordered a demonstration project in 1975 to test whether a decentralized system of medical services could function more effectively than the county's traditional centralized hospital-based system.

The controversy became known as the Chope Hospital story.

Supervisors earlier this year voted to keep Chope open, but also directed Pickett to operate Fair Oaks Clinic as a "satellite" of the hospital.

"While satellite clinics are clearly convenient for those in need of county assistance, they are not essential and they are costly," Pickett said in his report.

"It is our belief that the county's resources and developmental efforts should be concentrated at Chope in an effort to make it both efficient and effective.

"With the continuing development of the SamTrans system, access to Chope is improving, and county staff have initiated discussions with transit district personnel to see what can be done to make further improvements," Pickett said.

Instead of providing medical care on a "satellite basis," Pickett is recommending a less costly prevention program.

"It is clear that providing more medical care has very little effect on improving health," Pickett asserted. "In fact, it may have the opposite effect since its uncontrollable cost robs people and communities of the opportunity to do other things which may be more important. We share the belief that a greater emphasis on prevention and health promotion is needed.

As a pilot, Pickett is suggesting implementation of a prevention-oriented Family Health Service in Redwood City effective July 1.

The objective of the service would be to demonstrate "that the cost of medical care can be reduced through a four-pronged approach:

• Prevention and early detection of illness by offering health assessment exams, screening tests, and immunizations for children and adults who are not ill.

• "Health education and nutrition counseling.

• "Early intervention and assessment of patients with minor health complaints, with referral to medical providers only for those who require high technology medical services.

• "After-care follow-up of patients who have been hospitalized or treated at Chope Hospital."

Pickett predicted that savings would be realized by preventing the onset of illness, by early detection, and by providing services in a low-cost setting for patients who require only minimal services but are now forced to use costly high technology services.

"Such an effort is long overdue in San Mateo County," Pickett declared. "Working in connection with the medical, nursing and administrative staff at Chope Hospital, the proposed program could prove to be a highly innovative and effective effort, one which might profitably spread to all parts of the county in subsequent years and demonstrate the value of health promotion and disease prevention in the private as well as in the public sector."

Meanwhile, the deletions proposed for the Chope Hospital staff "are part of a continuing process to respond to rapidly increasing hospital costs," the health director reported.

"The deletion of these positions will not seriously impede patient care or significantly alter existing medical care programs of the institution," he added.

"The positions, which total 25 counting the bus driver who would lose his job if the hospital's Coastside pickup is discontinued, were submitted by the hospital administration for board consideration, Pickett said.

The 10 hospital department positions now filled which would result in layoffs are one supervising nurse, four head nurses, two vocational nurses, one ward aide, one clerk, and one typist.

Those unfilled positions (due to the hiring freeze) recommended for deletion include two clinical laboratory technologists, a dietitian, physical therapy aide, and several clerical or custodial jobs.

DC Woman Dies in Span Leap

A 27-year-old Daly City woman became the 595th known suicide Wednesday when she jumped from the Golden Gate Bridge.

Karen Lee Ford, 14 Crestline Drive, leaped from the span at 11:27 a.m., according to Daly City police. The body was recovered by Ft. Point Coast Guard Units.

Initially it was believed the woman might be alive. But a doctor called to the scene pronounced her dead.

The woman had been undergoing psychiatric care following a nervous breakdown. She was a resident at Chope Community Hospital, San Mateo, and had been released from the hospital to spend Mother's Day with her mother, Theroleen Ford, also of Daly City.

Police said the woman reportedly left her mother's house at approximately 11 o'clock, then immediately went to the bridge and jumped.

The dead woman's mother learned of the suicide while she was reporting her daughter's absence to police. The mother said her daughter had suicidal tendencies.

Eight persons have survived the Golden Gate Bridge plunge in the span's 40-year history.

Bruno Woman's Effort Succeeds

She Wins Battle for El Camino Traffic Signal

By JANET PARKER

A one-woman campaign for a traffic signal in San Bruno has won the support of the state Department of Transportation.

Since October 1974, Mrs. Edna Gentry has been pleading, begging and demanding traffic signals at an intersection she says is endangering the life of anyone who crosses it.

Just last week, Mrs. Gentry received a letter from Cal/Trans District Director T. R. Lammers, telling her that her persistence has paid off.

Plans have been made to immediately install temporary flashing lights at the corner of El Camino Real and San Felipe and to erect permanent traffic signals as soon as funding is approved.

Mrs. Gentry said she's "never been one to complain" about anything.

"This is just one problem that has bothered me for all these years," she said. "I feel proud that I helped just a little bit."

"It's been a long time coming," she added.

Before 1974, Mrs. Gentry never gave much thought to the affair of city government and she had never attended a City Council meeting. But, suddenly, the soft-spoken woman's presence was common at City Hall.

Mrs. Gentry sat patiently at council meetings — often through a tedious agenda — to finally plead her case at the microphone.

The mother of two told city officials of the danger at the busy intersection and reminded them that one young person was killed crossing the street. She presented petitions signed by about 60 of her neighbors supporting her campaign.

Council members told her the matter was out of their hands. CalTrans is responsible for El Camino Real, so she began aiming her demands at the state.

She wrote twice to Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. and many times to CalTrans officials. But their response was usually the same — limited funds make it impossible to provide traffic signals everywhere, they said.

Her concern intensified last year when her own daughter, Debbie, was injured, while riding in her school bus through that intersection.

Mrs. Gentry said 25 children were riding in the bus that slammed on its brakes to avoid a collision as it crossed El Camino Real. Her daughter cut her lip and the accident further infuriated Mrs. Gentry.

The next day she angrily wrote to Lammers. He politely told her his regret that an accident had occurred and that her daughter had been injured. However, the availability of funds still remained in question.

But Mrs. Gentry was delighted to finally receive word of CalTrans' commitment for traffic signal installation.

Lammers said CalTrans plans to immediately install temporary flashing signals. Then, full signals will be built "when funding and priorities allow."

Deputy Dist. Director Gene Hardin said the signalization will cost the state about $70,000. After studying the intersection, engineers gave it a lower priority than Mrs. Gentry hoped and the full signals probably won't be installed until 1979, he said.

She's not sure she would take on another cause as diligently as this one. But then, she said, she's never before faced such a perplexing personal situation involving government.

"I think this will make quite a few people happy," she said.

One of the oncoming autos was driven by a CHP officer, Donald E. Osterman, who said his patrol car was almost hit by Feria's car.

Feria's auto sped north until it crashed into a car driven by Leon Chapette, 47, of 327 Bachman Ave., Los Gatos. Chapette and his mother, Josephine Arrigo, 68, of Santa Clara, were killed instantly, as was Feria, patrolmen reported.

Chapette's wife, Claire, 47, was reported in serious condition today in Chope Community Hospital where she is being treated for multiple injuries. The victims' daughter, Tammy, 16, was reported in fair condition today in Mills Memorial Hospital where she is being treated for head injuries.

Prior to the fatal crash, a CHP spokesman said, "There were a lot of near misses along the way."

Numerous police, firemen and Medevac crews converged on the crash scene.

San Mateo County Coroner's Investigator Robert Bergstrom is investigating the accident. Bergstrom said today he does not know why Feria drove the wrong way onto the freeway.

contingency basis — if even one of our demands received a response," said Mrs. Stokes.

In March, the district had offered the teachers a 6.8 per cent salary increase, but quickly withdrew it when it was discovered enrollment figures had been overestimated by 75 students.

"Each student, it was estimated, would bring in $1,206 during the year in average daily attendance allowance from the state. We, therefore, will have to adjust our $726,249 estimated budget figure for '76-'77," explained Colla.

The last offer from the district was a 6.5 per cent across the board salary increase, retroactive to July 1976, and an agreement to assume the additional cost of medical insurance (that covers the employee only).

Colla said to keep in mind that other items are increasing, such as the district's contribution to the State Teachers Retirement Fund.

Board chairwoman Mildred Pleskach said, "It is unfortunate that this thing has to be so long and drawn out."

However, Mrs. Pleskach added that she hopes the bargaining representatives who are now going into fact finding will be able to straighten things out.

Bayshore has two schools, one superintendent, two principals, 22 teachers and approximately 400 students.

return with other proposals.

Polonsky recommended two additional proposals — a per person gallonage concept and a combination of per cent and per person reductions.

The combination method would allot a minimum amount for each household based on a three-person family's needs. Then, each additional person in the family would be provided for through application for further allotments.

Council will consider the three alternatives with further revisions at its meeting May 23.

Barney's and South Tahoe Nugget Plan

With a late trace of winter arriving around Lake Tahoe and the High Sierra, it is hard to believe that Memorial Day and the traditional kick-off for summer is just a couple of weeks away. The major resorts and casinos in the South Shore area are planning on one of the biggest vacation years ever, with a record-breaking number of tourists expected to visit Lake Tahoe in the next few months. BARNEY'S CLUB and the SOUTH TAHOE NUGGET are planning a new promotional sheet of refunds to be introduced around the middle of this month. The new bonus coupon will be available at most restaurants and rest stops on Highway 50. SAM'S TOWN, which is a "must" stop for families, has these coupons, which can be redeemed at Barney's for cash, lucky bucks, cocktails, etc. For distribution of these coupons to private groups locally, call 573-8754. . . . It's going to be a "hot time in the ol' town" Saturday night when the Dixieland Jazz Jam gets under way from 4 to 7 p.m. at the PRINCE OF WALES, a popular British pub on Twenty-fifth Avenue, San Mateo. Come on in and join the merriment, says Owner JACK CURRY.

Yolanda's Extends Arty Invitation

BOB McLANE, owner of YOLANDA'S, is inviting Bay Area artists to hang their paintings for sale in his restaurant, which is located inside the San Francisco Produce Terminal. No fee is involved. Call 589-1161 for further information. . . . "Fifties freaks" seem to show up in full force on Sunday night at BAYHILL LOUNGE to hear the DEL POMPADORES do their "be bop" sounds of the 50's. The group, which appears here every other Sunday evening, is in the groove. . . Not many people think of bringing their cameras when dining out. Perhaps that's why NICK GUST, owner of NICK'S, THE MOONRAKER and CAPTAIN CHARLES restaurants in Rockaway Beach, Pacifica, had postcards made (both day and night scenes) of the picturesque coast for his dinner guests to send family and friends. Not to mention how many go into the memory books of dinner guests. . . THE GINA ROSSI TRIO is doing a record business for LYLE'S, South San Francisco, reports Manager MORRIE SIEMEL. . . . Chef Julius Rische of OLIVER'S restaurant, South San Fracisco, says Crab Legs Saute will be featured Friday night. Saturday night's features will be Prime Rib and Abalone.

Your California Ford Dealer has the car that took on a $20,000 German Mercedes in tests for quietness and ride.

A 1977 Ford Granada* was brought to Germany for a scientific ride comparison with a Mercedes-Benz 450 SE†. Testing was conducted by an independent German engineering firm.

Test 1: Smoothness test. The engineers drove the Granada and the Mercedes at various speeds over roads in Northern Germany, ranging from cobblestone to smooth highway. Using a sensitive electronic recorder, they measured vibration levels. Results: In three out of the four tests, there were "no major differences" between the two cars.

Test 2: Quietness test. Again, the two cars were compared over a variety of German road surfaces at speeds from 30 to 55 mph. A sound meter recorded interior decibel levels on the dBA scale. Results: In all tests the Ford Granada rode as quietly as the Mercedes-Benz.

Ford Granada—California's best seller. Discover what makes the Granada such a smooth and quiet-riding car. See your Ford Dealer.

†U.S. sticker price $20,689, excluding taxes, title and destination charges

SEEMS LIKE OLD TIMES WHEN $$$ HAD CENTS

As I write this ad about our new listing, in Fiesta Gardens, picture a long, low rambler sitting on landscaped lawns, envision a spacious living room, softly carpeted in gold. Add a lovely kitchen and dining area, 2 sparkling baths + a 2-car attached garage. A dishwasher and disposal are built-in to this fully insulated home, priced at $88,500. You must see it to believe! DC Community Service Leader Digs In

By NANCY STANCILL

"The presidency cannot be a ceremonial office. It should be an office of power," said the Rev. Raymond Howard. Howard is president of the Board of Directors of the Daly City Community for Children's Services.

He intends to remain president of the controversial day care organization "until things are going well," even though his detractors have commented that things won't go well while he is president.

The DCCCS has been under fire for several months for its organizational structure, which — disgruntled parents of participating children and others charge — gives Howard total control of the organization.

Since the organization receives some funding from Daly City and state sources, San Mateo County and Daly City are conducting a joint fiscal audit and program review to determine whether the corporation should continue to be funded.

Officials have insisted that DCCCS revise its bylaws to limit the board's powers and Howard said the board has complied in the second set of bylaw revisions.

But, he noted that there are some points where he will not yield, primarily concerning his concept-of presidential power.

He thinks that the president should be able "to terminate somebody without going to an agency to get permission."

Howard blamed all the criticism directed toward the organization on the fact that "as a black, I fired a white woman as director."

The former director, Mrs. Ann Cooper, was fired for alleged insubordination earlier in the year.

Howard also said he won't yield to criticism concerning the fact that his wife and daughter also are members of the Board of Directors. He said they are unpaid and there is nothing illegal about it.

However, he said Nemer Gonzalez, the husband of center employe Rhina Gonzalez, will be resigning from the board shortly. He said there could be a conflict of interest, because she is salaried.

The DCCCS also is short two other board members, when newly-elected board officials Ernie Pezzola and Conrad Pavellas resigned last week.

Pavellas was named to the San Mateo County Planning Commission several weeks ago and he resigned as treasurer, a position he had been elected to by new community members several weeks ago.

Pezzola, however, said his resignatin was prompted by the fact that Howard told the Daly City City Council that he would step down as president if a replacement were found.

Pavellas, Pezzola and several other new "reform members" jhad located a candidate, the Rev. Ted Sponsel, who had worked with similar day care programs.

But Howard, though he acknowledges the statement to the council in March, said, "I didn't make any promises that I would resign so they (Pavellas and Pezzola) could come in.

"I didn't mean I would jump like a scared rabbit," he said.

Howard said he has tentatively scheduled a meeting to continue discussion on bylaw revisions.

WOWI Is Keeping Up With Changing Times

Rich man, poor man, beggar man, thief,
Doctor, lawyer, Indian chief . . .
By TERRY DAVENPORT

To keep up with the times, we might add to the old nursery rhyme such occupations as "advertising and public relations," "nuclear engineering" and "mathematics and logical systems."

Those are just three of 117 careers listed in the new World of Work Inventory (WOWI), a complex career test that several local high schools are giving to students to help them plan their futures.

Most career tests concentrate on interest areas and point the test taker toward traditional jobs. Designed by Robert E. Ripley, Ph.D., the WOWI test measures a person's aptitudes and job satisfaction indicators in additional to vocational interests.

Instead of directing the person to one or two specific careers, WOWI recommends that he or she check into two of 17 occupational areas that are broken down into 117 career families.

For example, one student was directed to area No. 10 (primary outdoor) and area No. 15 (mechanical and electrical work), pointing to nine career families, including farming, fishing, navigation, forest conservation and mechanics.

Jean Long, a counselor aide at Crestmoor High School in San Bruno, helped administer WOWI to the entire sophomore class for the first time this year and is pleased with the results.

"Last year, we had huge numbers of students who wanted to be the standard professionals — doctors, lawyers — but this year they are considering many more listings of jobs," she said.

Crestmoor is giving the test to sophomores because it allows students more time to plan ahead.

"When we deal with careers at this level, we still have time to say, 'You really need math if you're going into this field,'" the counselor explained.

She and David Kennedy, a Crestmoor counselor, are delighted that 64 per cent of the sophomores said in a survey that they had shown the test to their parents.

"It is remarkable to us that it would engender that kind of a response," said Kennedy.

Eighty-one per cent of the 332 Crestmoor sophomores who responded to the survey said that the WOWI test pointed out an occupational area in which they were already interested, while more than a third said the test had indicated a job area which they had not considered but now would like to explore.

A majority of the students believed that the test gave them new job satisfaction indicators (such as versatile, adaptable, dominant) to consider when looking for a job. Fully 81 per cent recommended giving the test to next year's sophomores.

Midge Offel, career center specialist at San Mateo High School, said her school also is administering the WOWI test to sophomores and to individuals in some other classes.

"So far, the reaction of the kids is that they're enjoying it," she said. San Mateo High uses the WOWI test in conjunction with other career tests at different age levels to allow students to compare their changing interests from year to year.

"We're trying to get kids to start thinking about what they want to do and how to learn to investigate," she commented. It's a lot different from when I went to high school. We had a girl's counselor and a boy's counselor for 1900 kids and we each saw our counselor once a year."

At Burlingame High School, psychology teacher Dave Studebaker uses the WOWI test "as a culminating activity in a total unit on the psychology of self" in a course that only juniors and seniors may take.
